Why we are expanding

1. We're at capacity

Our school is growing even faster than the city. Wait lists are happening at most grade levels. Our growth is being slowed only by our ability to find spaces for more students.

2. Buildings are past due for replacement

Our grade 3-5 modular classroom building was built to last 20 years ... until 2012. The cost of repairs continues to escalate.

3. There's no other option for Christian education

NCS is the only Christian school in central Vancouver Island. Nanaimo isn't a strong church-going population, but more families are seeking us out.

4. We want to be a light in the community

Expanding our facilities allows us to not only impact our students but also to draw people in from the community. We believe that they will feel and see something different and want to know more.
